4 themes to shape your floor choice

In a world full of noise and pace, Roots invites you to slow down. To live with more intention, in an interior that feels calm and meaningful. This collection brings natural materials, tactile textures and subtle colours together in floors that don't just look beautiful, but feel just right.

Each design is rooted in a theme that gives your interior direction. From calm minimalism to warm nostalgia. Be inspired by four timeless styles.

Whichever style you choose, Roots helps you create an interior that feels like coming home. With materials that speak, colours that move you and designs that last.

Reclaimed Heritage:

Crafted warmth for modern living.

Home is the place where life slows down. Where mornings unfold gently and evenings feel unhurried. It is where you arrive, exhale and feel at ease. Reclaimed Heritage is about interiors that feel warm, rooted and comforting. Spaces that invite you to pause and fully enjoy being at home.

This style is inspired by timeless materials and authentic craftsmanship, translated into a look that feels fresh and contemporary. Soft stone surfaces and warm travertine tones create a serene foundation, while subtle textures add depth and character. Earthy colours and natural finishes bring a quiet sense of harmony, making every room feel easy to live in.

1 Country Oak 54991
2 Triana 46224
3 Blackjack Oak 22220
4 Galway Oak 87870

Nothing here asks for attention. Beauty reveals itself gradually, in the softness of materials and the harmony of natural tones. Reclaimed Heritage is not about escaping trends, but about creating a home that feels right today and for years to come.

Gentle Brutalism:

A study in stillness and structure.

Certain interiors create comfort through softness. Others do it through clarity. Gentle Brutalism belongs to that second category. It creates a sense of order that feels reassuring, almost instinctive. The kind of space where your eye can rest, because nothing competes for attention.

The strength of this theme lies in its surfaces. Floors inspired by concrete or stone give the room a solid backbone, one that feels steady and composed. Light plays an important role here. As it shifts throughout the day, it sharpens edges, deepens shadows and brings the architecture of the space to life, without the need for added decoration.

What keeps the interior from feeling severe? It is all in the way structure is handled. Strong lines are never rigid. Curves appear where you least expect them, guiding movement and softening the experience of the room. The result is an interior that feels clear and focused. A place where structure brings a sense of balance and the design stands quietly on its own.

Sunlit Ease:

Where light settles softly.

What if your interior could hold the day's last light the way a landscape does at dusk? Sunlit Ease grows from that feeling. It is shaped by colours that seem touched by the sun, tones that feel lived in rather than chosen. Light lingers here. It moves across the room, pauses for a moment, then slowly shifts, leaving behind a sense of warmth that stays.

- ✓ Rhythm and light
- ✓ Warm materials & colours
- ✓ Nostalgic

Surfaces feel natural and familiar, inviting you to notice them without demanding attention. Wood, stone and clay respond to changing light, revealing depth and character as the day progresses. Nothing feels fixed or static. The space evolves quietly, shaped by use, time and presence.

As the interior comes together, rounded forms and tactile finishes bring a sense of softness and flow. The atmosphere feels gentle, settled and inviting. Sunlit Ease is not about making a statement, but about creating a place that feels sun-warmed, intuitive and closely connected to the passing of time.

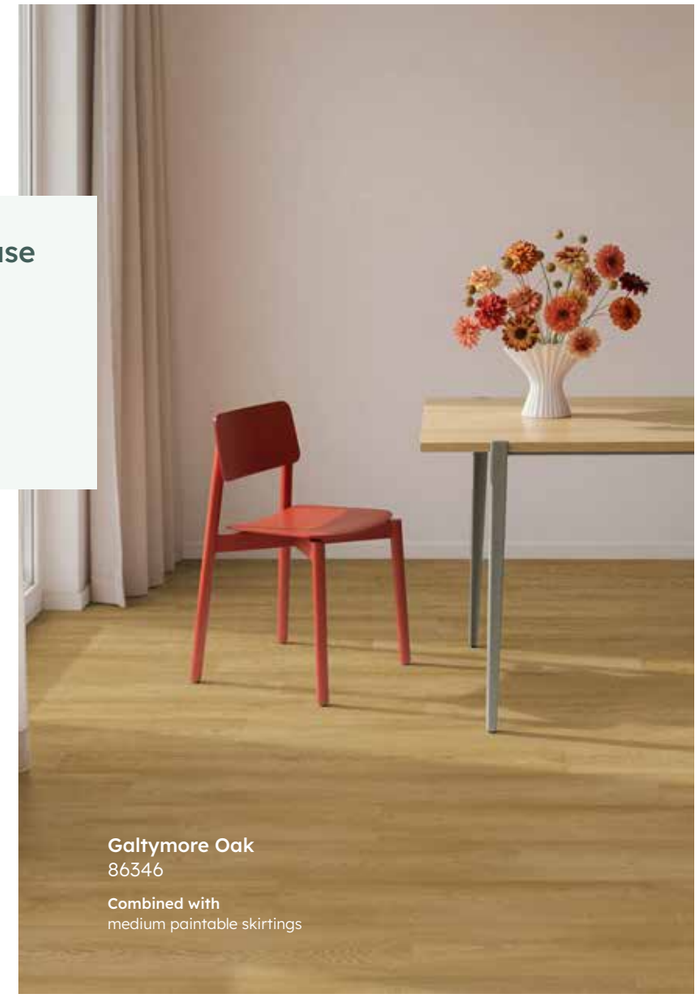
Joyful Minimalism:

Calm with a spark.

Some interiors instantly lift your mood. Not because they are loud or full, but because they bring happiness. Joyful Minimalism captures that feeling. It combines the clarity of a minimal setting with small moments of joy that make it feel personal and alive.

- ✓ Soft neutral base
- ✓ Playful colour accents
- ✓ Clean lines
- ✓ Simplicity



Galtymore Oak

The base is light and easy to live with. Soft neutrals, clean lines and natural materials create a sense of openness. Blonde wood tones and gentle concrete floors anchor the interior, keeping everything coherent and welcoming. From there, your room starts to smile. A touch of colour here, a playful detail there. Nothing over the top, just enough to bring energy into your space.

Joyful Minimalism is about feeling good at home. About places that support bright mornings, creative afternoons and relaxed evenings. Minimal, but never boring. Playful, without losing focus. A home that feels clear, optimistic and unmistakably yours.
